point lost or gained in whist or in euchre counting five. To take every trick at euchre means not only twenty-five added to the winner's score, but twenty-five subtracted from the loser's. Every heart taken in the game of hearts counts one; to take all thirteen hearts counts fifty against you and gives fifty to your opponents. To take every trick in "grand" counts sixty. The wears well and the main reason for this is its variety. Not only do the players have a the bicycle is responsible for it. When womskirts a necessity, but the general public regarded the abbreviated garment with such doubtful interest that the pioneer wearers resumed their accustomed long mounting. In time, however, they became bolder and it was no uncommon thing to see a woman with feet visible to her shoe-

The Game of "Grand."

Was there anybody, anywhere, this summer who didn't play "grand?" asks a writer in the New York Evening Sun. It was the game of the summer, no matter where you went you encountered it, and its general popularity was proof of its particular excellence. "Grand" is played by four pertwo against two, and with the full pack of fifty-two cards. The cards are dealt

The women of Indianapolis are very good about putting off entertainments during this endance at the Naval Fair. There is every reason to believe that the fair will be more of a success this year then ever before and more money has been spent by the association to bring the entertainment up to the standard. "Pinafore" will be presented on the opening night, Tuesday, and the last two nights will be devoted to vaude-
